The War Today

By GUY RHODES

CAUTION
The Axis continued today to exhibit extraordinary caution in an apparent effort to overcome its setbacks in the battle of Britain and the invasion of Greece.

In the last three days the German and Italian high commands have conferred at Innsbruck, in what used to be Austria, the Italian, Spanish and German foreign ministers have conferred at Berchtesgaden, King Boris of Bulgaria has seen Hitler and Hungarian ministers now are due to see the Germans at Vienna.

OBVIOUS
Previously the Axis partners interviewed diplomatic chiefs of Russia, France and Rumania in a fairly obvious attempt to insure nonresistance from those countries for whatever they may be planning to hatch next.

The visit of Boris was perhaps the most interesting of the lot. The monarch of Bulgaria apparently went to Hitler, whether at the German fuhrer's summons or to protest something was not clear. Bulgaria, however, is considered the natural highway for German troops to go to the help of their hard-pressed Italian confederates.

DIFFICULT
Travel conditions in Yugoslavia, the other possible road from Rumania to Greece—thousands of German troops have been in Rumania for weeks—apparently are considered too difficult, or the Yugoslavs are too obdurate, for an easy passage.

The need for Axis caution was most apparent in the Grecian war, where Italy, trying desperately to stem a Greek counter-invasion of Albania, was meeting with repeated reverses.

Many have said these reverses were due in the main to the poor fighting quality of the Italian soldier, but a lot of the responsibility in the long run must be placed on the shoulders of the Italian high command.

UNIMPRESSED
Italy appears to have gone into Albania, which she conquered in a walkover last year, with the intention of waging a mechanical war on Greece. The difficulty of the terrain does not seem to have impressed the Italian high command sufficiently and its troops seem not to have been properly trained for mountain fighting.

Britain's Costs Decrease

LONDON (CP)—Britain's war expenditures dropped to a daily average of $9,500,000 ($42,275,000) last week, against an average of $12,000,000 for the previous two weeks, Exchange figures disclosed today.

Pamphlet Flood Brings Arrests

By the Canadian Press

Police across Canada are investigating today a flood of "End of Nazism" pamphlets, described as similar in content to that formerly circulated by Jehovah's Witnesses before they were outlawed under the Defence of Canada Regulations.

The pamphlets were distributed early Sunday morning in dozens of Canadian cities and towns in a door-to-door canvass by scores of men and women. Because in many cases householders were disturbed about 4 a.m. in widely separated communities, police considered there had been a nationwide plan to circulate homes at the same hour.

Although in many cases, the pamphlets were left noiselessly and were not discovered until the next morning, with the result that no arrests were made, scores of individuals were taken into custody and some were charged under the Defence Regulations after they had been questioned and others were held on vagrancy charges.

Many of those arrested said they had found packages of the tracts on their doorsteps and they had been so interested with the contents they had felt the urge to go out and distribute them. The pamphlets attacked the Roman Catholic church.

Final Bulletins

Hatley Park Acquired for Naval College

OTTAWA—Hatley Park, former home of the Dunsmuir family, has been taken over by the Dominion Government for the home of the new Canadian Naval College, it was announced by R. W. Mayhew, M.P., this evening.

Order-in-council for the purchase was put through the cabinet this evening. Price paid is $75,000.

Presumed Lost

LONDON (CP)—The Admiralty announced tonight that the submarine Rainbow, in command of Lieut.-Commander L. P. Moore, is overdue and must be considered lost.

The Rainbow was a craft of 1,475 tons surface displacement and has a complement of 50.

Taranto Aftermath

LONDON (CP)—Crippling of the Italian fleet at Taranto faced the Italian command with a serious problem of repair because the work must be done in private shipyards, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported tonight.

The BBC said Italy does not build her warships in naval shipyards, but has them constructed under contract by private firms.

U.S. CATHOLICS BACK ENGLAND

NEW YORK — Prominent American Catholics have issued a statement saying that "whatever some of us may feel concerning the actions of England in the past, her defeat in the present war would mean the triumph of those who would usurp the things of God."

The statement adds "there is only one way in which we can prevent our kind of civilization from falling under the domination of Hitler's evil despotism—we must give all possible aid to Britain that she may carry on the way to victory, lest we be left to face the dictators of Europe and Asia alone."

Archbishop Schrems of Cleveland, Bishop Lucy of Amarillo, Texas, Bishop O'Hara of Kansas City, actor-producer Eddie Dowling, Rev. John P. Boland, chairman of the State Labor Relations Board, are among the signers.

"Hitlerism, like Communism," the statement adds, "None of the conflicts that have divided western civilization should be permitted to obscure this transcendent issue. We believe this danger is important. Therefore as American citizens and Catholics we declare that we give our full support to the government of the United States for every prudent and effective effort to overcome this evil thing."

Betty Grable Free

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Betty Grable's attorney today obtained her final divorce from Jackie Coogan, "The Kid" of silent screen days, apparently spilling reports they might reconcile.

Europa Bombed at Dock Krupps' Output Cut in Half by R.A.F.

LONDON (CP)—The Europa, Germany's second largest ocean liner, was hit amidship while in dock at Bremen, the Air Ministry news service announced today, disclosing also in Germany that production at the Krupp munitions works at Essen has been cut down 50 per cent.

The Europa, one of the world's greatest liners, was built in 1928 at the Hamburg plant of Blohm and Voss. She is registered with Lloyd's at 49,746 tons, with a length of 890 feet, a beam of 102 feet and a draught of 48 feet, owned by the North German Lloyd, her home port is Bremen.

Europa and Sister Held Speed Records

The German liner Bremen, described in an unconfirmed report last week as sunk in the Skagerrak with only her upper work now showing above the water, is a sister ship of the Europa, being 897 feet in length, with a tonnage of 51,656.

Before the war these two giant liners plied between New York, England and Germany, crossing the Atlantic in little more than four days. Until the British Ss. Queen Mary and the French Ss. Normandie and the Italian Ss. Rex and Conte di Savoia were commissioned, the two Germans were the fastest on the Atlantic.

Supplies Lacking For Krupp Plants

As for raids on Nazi industrial areas, the Air Ministry news service said news reaching London indicates "the growing disruption of industry in cities of western Germany."

S.S. EUROPA

The Air Ministry said the Krupp works were having great difficulty in obtaining their regular supplies of raw materials "because of transport trouble by wrecked railway junctions."

"Three sections of the factory have been hit and put out of commission," the bulletin said. "One particularly heavy bomb penetrated to the underground workshop before exploding and wrecking the place. Some departments have been closed and others have had to be moved to other cities."

Chemical Works At Stettin Wrecked

The Air Ministry also said that four large buildings of the Union chemical factory on an island at the junction of the Oder and Moll rivers at Stettin had been wrecked, the biggest oil refinery at Hanover destroyed and the Deutsche Vacuum Oil Company at Bremen put out of production.

Damage to the power house of the Fokker airplane works at Amsterdam, Holland, stopped production there for several weeks.

Harvests in many parts of Germany are rotting ungathered in the fields, the bulletin said, and added, "the disorganization of transport is so acute that sufficient workers cannot be taken to the fields, nor crops moved to storehouses."

Canada to Build Destroyers, Cruisers

OTTAWA (CP)—Navy Minister Macdonald told the Commons this afternoon the government planned a program of destroyers and possibly cruisers in Canadian shipyards.

He announced also that Canada again will have a naval college. Plans for the navy called for the addition of 100 ships and 10,000 men by the spring of 1942. Mr. Macdonald said. This would give Canada a navy of 250 ships and 25,000 men.

Make New Call On Builders

This projected expansion of the navy was significant on two points:

Canada was determined to put forth an effort on sea no less complete than in the air and on the land.

The dignity of Canada demanded a navy worthy of the country's importance among the nations of the world, adequate to her needs as a great trading nation.

An enlarged shipbuilding program was an essential part of Canada's naval plans. Canada had already built some of the smaller ships required by the Canadian and British navies, and Mr. Macdonald paid tribute to the Canadian builders.

"But we intend to go further," he said. "It is our hope that we shall be able to build destroyers and perhaps cruisers in Canadian yards. In the early stages we shall require the assistance of skilled men from Admiralty dockyards or from private yards in Britain, and we have asked for that assistance."

Speaking in the debate on the address in reply to the Throne Speech, the minister said he was happy to make the naval college announcement, with the concurrence of the Prime Minister and my colleagues.

Youths to Train For Life Work

"To this college will resort young men who wish to adopt the naval profession as their life's work," the navy minister added. "During the war period no other type of work can be attempted at such a college."

The navy minister did not say where the college would be established, but he referred to the naval college established in Halifax in 1911 and abandoned after the Halifax explosion in 1917.

After that classes continued for a year at the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont., and for a few years subsequently at a temporary college building in Esquimaux, B.C.

The minister, speaking of the government's plans to build up a navy "that will not be unworthy of Canada," officered and manned by men trained in Canada, said that to get such men the naval college would be needed.

He told the House the Canadian navy had an active service strength of 1,620 officers and 11, 653 other ranks, or a total of 13,273 compared with 1,774 all ranks at the outbreak of war.

There were 728 of all ranks from the Canadian navy serving in Great Britain or in British ships.

The Canadian naval fleet had 15 units at the start of the war to 135 of all types at the moment, he said.

Wide Duties For Canada's Ships

Turning to the navy's duties, Mr. Macdonald said they were three: The convoy and control of movement of British merchant shipping to and from North America; the patrol and protection of Canada's own coasts, and co-operation with the British navy in European and other waters.

St. James' Church, Piccadilly, Hit by Bomb

LONDON (CP)—St. James' Church in Piccadilly was struck by a bomb in a recent raid, it was disclosed this afternoon.

St. James' Church, the interior of which is greatly admired, was built by Sir Christopher Wren in the late 17th century. Lord Chesterfield and Lord Chatham were baptized at its font. It has an open-air pulpit in its paved forecourt.

The Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security issued a com-

unique tonight which said: "During the daylight hours to-day there has been scarcely any enemy activity over this country. The only bombs reported were dropped near a village in Kent and these caused no damage or casualties."

Duel Across Strait of Dover

During the morning German long-range guns on the coast of France hurled shells across the Strait of Dover for nearly an hour. There were no reports of casualties or damage.

German air attacks on Coventry test-d emergency food organization in Britain severely, but the service "stood up to the job," the British Broadcasting Corporation reported today, quoting a statement made by Lord Woolton, Minister of Food.

Lord Woolton added that "we have plenty of reserve power, if necessary."

Great Efforts To Foil Night Raiders

Air Marshal Sir Philip Joubert declared today the problem of night air raids on London was "very far from being solved," although the government is "doing its best to find an answer."

"We are hopeful," he said. At the same time, the Evening News reports a new method of combating night raiders already was being tried out successfully on "a small scale."

"It is known that points where the new device has been tried," the News said, "have been marked down by the Germans as 'hot spots' to be avoided."

Production of the device is starting on a large scale, it said, and it is likely that "anti-aircraft fire will become steadily more accurate."

Guns on Junk Pile 'Slight Fallen Heroes'

Robert D. MacLachlan, recording secretary, Native Sons of Canada, today sent the following to the mayor and aldermen:

"I am directed by the members of Victoria Assembly No. 1, Native Sons of Canada, to advise you of their displeasure over the removal of captured German artillery pieces from the Causeway and other public places, and to respectfully request you to cause their return to their former positions."

"In the opinion of the members of the Native Sons of Canada these cannons are constant re-mindors of the heroism of Canadian and other British troops during the 1914-1918 war, and they must be placed where they can be seen and not in the municipal junk and storage yard—'Lest We Forget'."

"The blood of our brothers and comrades was shed in their capture, and their inclusion among the city's cast-off machinery, discarded wheelbarrows and obsolete cement mixers is a slight to the memory of those who died, and a disregard of the wishes of taxpayers and others who honor that memory."

No Nickel Comes From Petsamo Mine

LONDON (CP)—Dingle Foot, Parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Economic Warfare, in a written reply in the House of Commons today said the Petsamo nickel mine at present is not producing ore and the ministry has no reason to believe that any nickel shipments are reaching Germany from Finland.

(The Petsamo mine was developed by the International Nickel Company of Canada. This work was halted when hostilities broke out between Soviet Russia and Finland.)

D.F.C. for Victorian

LONDON (CP-Cable)—Pilot Officer John Ronald Urwin-Mann, born in Victoria, B.C., in 1920 and now attached to No. 238 Squadron, Royal Air Force, today was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

"He has led his section in an excellent manner and has destroyed at least eight enemy aircraft."

Urwin-Mann was educated at Xaverian College, Brighton, and was commissioned in the R.A.F. in 1939. He lives at Hove, Sussex.

SUCCEEDS CHESTER

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Ralston announced in a statement today the appointment of Victor W. Sifton of Winnipeg as acting master-general of the ordnance branch of the defence department, succeeding P. A. Chester, also of Winnipeg.

Duce 'Stubs Toe'

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Herald Tribune, dissecting Mussolini's address yesterday point by point, said editorially today Duce was "painfully on the defensive." It concluded:

"One does not infer that the Duce is yet in any serious trouble. One does suspect, however, that he is already faced with one of the grave defects of the totalitarian method. A regime built on lies and propaganda deprives itself of any possibility of telling the bad news when the bad news comes."

The Times said Mussolini "finds it necessary to shout down the questions rising in Italy," and found it "strange and significant that he should have to work so hard to paint Britain as the 'enemy,' the second cartilage that will be annihilated—but not soon or easily, if the reference to the puny wars is to be taken literally."

The speech impressed the news chiefly "by its admissions that maybe Duce has stubbed a toe somewhere," and as an indication "that all is far from being well with the Axis."

Bremerton Blackout

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—A total blackout here was called off last night on account of fog.
 The wartime manoeuvre had been scheduled to determine how completely the lights of this U.S. navy yard city could be smothered from the view of aerial observers, but authorities canceled it because the fog was so thick an air observer would have been doing well to see the city with the lights on.
 The blackout was rescheduled for 10.30 tonight, weather permitting.

Making History

REGINA (CP)—Britain's creed enunciated by Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill in his speech in the House of Commons shortly before the capitulation of the French fighting forces in which he stated Britain would fight the menace of tyranny for years and if necessary alone will hang on the walls of every room in every school in Saskatchewan.
 Copies of the creed beneath a reproduction of a photograph of Mr. Churchill are being sent out to all schools in the province by the Saskatchewan Hotels Association with the full co-operation of the Saskatchewan Department of Education.

Ontario Canals To Be Kept Filled

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. W. O. Gliddon, federal air raid precautions officer for Canada, told members of the Ontario Civilian Defence Committee here that a number of Ontario canals will be kept filled this winter to give firemen an added water surplus.
 Dr. Gliddon spoke to regional officers from 14 districts who started a lecture course here. They will be trained so they may instruct chief wardens, division wardens and group captains throughout Ontario.

They were told by Attorney-General Conant that the organization was being formed to guard against sabotage, incendiarism and fifth column activities in addition to air raid precautions work.

Greeks to Tag

VANCOUVER (CP)—The City Council will be asked to sanction a tag day by which Vancouver's Hellenic community hopes to raise the major portion of a $35,000 fund for the Greek War Relief Association, according to T. Pappas, president of the Greek group here. Several hundred dollars have already been collected for the fund.

Alan Chambers In Scots' Uniform Speaks in French

OTTAWA (CP)—Officers and experienced troops from the Canadian 1st and 2nd Divisions overseas should be brought back to help train Canadian Active Service Force units in Canada, Alan Chambers, Liberal, Nanaimo, believes.
 He told the Commons a number of the "seasoned" troops in England should be replaced by suitable substitutes from Canada, and divided up among units of the 3rd and 4th Divisions.
 Mr. Chambers, in the Scottish uniform of a second lieutenant of the Canadian Scottish Regiment, a Vancouver Island killed active service force unit, spoke in the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the Throne.

He said the force now being trained in Canada might, in the end, be a main striking force.
 Mr. Chambers opened his speech in French, paying a tribute to the French-speaking people of Canada, and to the spirit of old France.

On the subject of training, Mr. Chambers said there were many officers who had kept themselves in close association with militia units, and who had gone overseas with the 1st and 2nd Divisions.

MANY WOULD BENEFIT

Some of these, along with trained personnel, now should be brought back to give forces in training in Canada the benefit of their experiences.

"If that is done we can reach a higher state of proficiency than we are reaching under present circumstances," he said.
 The monotony of the long winter would not make better fighting men of the troops in England without the infusion of new blood. Canada might take a lesson from the effect of continued inactivity on the troops of the Lowlands.

Mr. Chambers said a dry canteen recently had been opened in his unit, in addition to a wet canteen which had been in operation previously. In short order, the dry canteen was doing practically all the business in the unit.

He believed this indicated the serious intent of the men in the active army.

INSURANCE NEEDED

Mr. Chambers suggested one lack was some insurance scheme which rank and file soldiers would find feasible. He suggested the government confer with the insurance companies on some kind of insurance, under which the soldier, government and insurance companies would share the cost.

At his request after his election last March, Mr. Chambers was seated with a French-Canadian desk mate and shares an office in the Parliament Buildings with a French-Canadian member.

Mrs. Dorise Nielsen Protests Silencing of Criticism

Woman M.P. Scores Defence Rules

OTTAWA (CP)—Mrs. Dorise Nielsen, Unity, North Battleford, Sask., criticizing operations of the Defence of Canada Regulations, charges freedom of speech has virtually been lost in the Dominion.

"The first line of defence of democracy is in Canada," she said in the Commons, "and the place and time to fight for it are here and now."

Regulations were necessary in wartime, but she charged the government had taken dictatorial powers to protect itself from legitimate criticism.

Mrs. Nielsen protested the internment of 1,500 persons under the Defence of Canada Regulations without the laying of charges or opportunity for trial. Democracy had to live in practice as well as being an ideal.

Representations Against Workers

Three trade unionists had been interned, but their counsel could only learn from the responsible authorities that "representations had been made that the three were Communists."

"It matters not to me what these men are or who they are, but as British subjects they are entitled to all the protection of a trial," she said.

There were two reviewing committees, but each consisted of only one person and could not assure prompt consideration.

The possession of certain literature now constituted a crime. Not long ago Canadians deplored the burning of books in Germany as a step back into the Dark Ages.

Police Hunt Her Leaflet

Saskatchewan provincial police, Mrs. Nielsen said, had been looking for a leaflet she published, entitled: "Democracy Must Live," which was a condensed version of her own speech in the last budget debate, plus an open letter to the Canadian people. Their conduct merely stirred up fear and apprehension, when all she was doing, as she would continue to do, was to speak for the inarticulate masses.

The campaign literature of the Toronto community chest had said the same thing she had, that poverty was the most subversive influence in Canada. But it had asked for charity while she had asked for a more basic remedy.

"I speak not as an individual but as the elected representative of the people. If democracy is to live in Canada, then we must demand why the voice of one member of this chamber should be stifled," she said.

In Germany, unpopular people were dubbed Jews. There it was Jew-baiting; in Canada, Red-baiting.

It did not matter to her, she said, whether she was called a Red. The thing which would concern her was if the common people ever called her "yellow."

She said there was no provision in the regulations for subversive activities of some financial institutions and business monopolies.

"We should not forget the fate of France," she warned. "There were those who were guilty of the downfall of that country, those who stole her democracy and relinquished it to the dictators. . . . I think there is considerable need for the Canadian people to see a parallel of these conditions within our own boundaries."

Gillis, C.C.F., Tells Commons of Workers' Complaints

Troops' Parade in Plant Protested

OTTAWA (CP)—Instead of making democracy effective as far as the workers were concerned, everything possible was being done for the protection of those exploiting the workers, Clarence Gillis, C.C.F., Cape Breton South, charged in the Commons.

There was serious danger in the government allowing development among the people of an attitude that there was nothing to fight for, he warned. It was not enough to ask the people to fight for the restoration of the Old World.

Reports Incidents At G.M., Chrysler's

He cited specifically several instances of what he termed "Hitler tactics" by employers. Most recently General Motors at Oshawa, Ont., had asked to be declared a specially-protected place.

In a dispute at the Chrysler plant at Windsor, Ont., "all the tactics of Hitler" had been applied. On the day of a strike vote, he said, police had been placed outside the union hall and soldiers had been paraded through the factory to intimidate the workers.

Labor Minister McLarty said this troop operation had been planned considerably before that time.

"A happy coincidence," commented Rev. T. C. Douglas, C.C.F., Weyburn, Sask.

Workers Arrested Under Defence Rules Arrests of workers had been made at the Chrysler plant under the Defence of Canada regulations, Mr. Gillis said. If that was the use to which the regulations were to be put, they needed changing.

Conditions were little better among the miners of northern Ontario and Nova Scotia. At Kirkland Lake, Ont., 250 men were supplied with revolvers and uniforms and were being drilled regularly by the local chief of police. The group, he said, resembled closely Hitler's original storm troopers and their uniforms were reported supplied by district mining companies.

"It doesn't make for democracy when you have such groups who are not responsible to anybody that we know of," he said.

Mr. Gillis questioned whether members of Parliament were proving worthy of the country's fighting forces and the Labor forces working to maintain the armed services.

For example, a complex was developing in Cape Breton that that area was not a part of Canada. Unemployment was primarily responsible for a grave situation at No. 1-B Colliery, where 122 miners of Italian origin were at present excluded by native-born miners from their usual jobs.

The mine workers' union executive had ruled the Italian-born miners should resume the jobs, but 800 native-born miners were determined to prevent it.

The situation called for prompt government action.

ducing and become a charge upon the state simply because he happens to be, for example, in Windsor, where a temporary slackness has developed, rather than in Sarnia, where unfilled jobs exist.

The schedule of benefits under the Canadian scheme, it has been stated already, does not place a premium upon idleness. At the same time, compared with similar insurance schemes in other countries, they are thoroughly generous. In fact, living costs in Canada considered, it is doubtful if any other scheme of unemployment insurance anywhere is more generous to its beneficiaries. The function of the unemployment insurance benefit is not to substitute for the worker's pay envelope, but to tide him and his family over an otherwise difficult period.

Lumber Speed-up
 EDMONTON (CP)—Complying with a request from the Dominion timber controller that lumber production be speeded up as an aid to the war effort, pay and length of the working day in the lumber industry in Alberta have been increased by the provincial industrial relations board.

Affecting some 6,000 lumber workers, the new order calls for a 10-hour working day and a minimum wage of $37.50 a month with board and lodging.

About one-third of the 1,000 volcanoes on the earth are active.

Appeal Heard In $208,812 Case

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Court of Appeal is hearing an appeal of Sam Levi, manufacturer, and his daughter, Dora Levi, of Victoria, from the dismissal by Mr. Justice Denis Murphy of their action to recover $208,812 damages from Albert R. MacDougall, Vancouver barrister, and Amos Bliss Trites, financier.

The claim arose out of the acquiring by Trites in 1938 of the assets of the Pacific Coast Distillers Limited in a mortgage foreclosure action.

On a point of law, taken by C. H. Locke, K.C., defence counsel, the trial judge ruled the action as framed could not be maintained.

To maintain the action, plaintiffs, who purported to sue for shareholders of the Pacific Coast Distillers Limited, should have alleged that they applied to the shareholders for authority to sue, the defence contended.

Legion Tribute To Sir Percy Lake

MONTREAL (CP)—Death of Lt. Gen. Sir Percy Lake in Victoria was a "national loss," Alex Walker, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, said last night before leaving for his home in Calgary. Sir Percy was a grand president of the Canadian Legion.

"We of the Legion mourn the passing of a great leader and comrade," Walker said. "To Canada and the Empire his death is a national loss."

Mine Problem

OTTAWA (CP)—The Labor Department is giving its "active attention" to the situation created in the coal-mining area of Glace Bay, N.S., by the refusal of Canadian-born miners to work with 122 alien miners. Labor Minister McLarty informed the House of Commons.

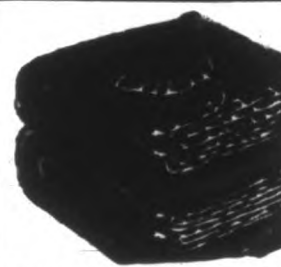

Clarence Gillis, C.C.F., Cape Breton South, raised the question. The Canadian-born miners had threatened to use force to keep the alien-born miners from the mines, he said.

The alien group was mostly of Italian origin or descent, he added.

Alberta Wheat Record

EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta Department of Agriculture's second estimate of the 1940 grain crop shows a reduction of 13,000,000 bushels from the first wheat estimate, but the figure still is an all-time wheat record for the province.

The new wheat estimate is 190,000,000 bushels. The previous record was the 1927 crop of 171,000,000 bushels.

BENEFITS

Such an idea, of course, comes close to being a complete misconception. Insured workers who become unemployed will continue, it is true, to receive a pay envelope from the insurance fund. But whereas their wages at their employments might have been anything up to $38.50 per week, their insurance benefits will not be more than $12.24 per week if single, or $14.40 per week if married. They may be as little as $4.08 per week if single or $4.80 if married.

From the standpoint of public policy, the fact that the benefits under the scheme are substantially below normal wages is one of the strongest features of the legislation. It definitely does not place a premium upon idleness, and it definitely discourages idleness.

REQUIREMENTS

What, actually, is the procedure that an insured worker will follow when he loses his job and wishes to start collecting his unemployment insurance benefit?

In the first place, he reviews a situation to make sure he is entitled to draw on the fund, that means that he must have made 30 weekly or 180 daily contributions to the fund within a period of two years previous to his unemployment.

Satisfied he falls within the benefit category, the worker takes his insurance card, with his payments to the federal fund recorded upon it, to the employment service office in his district. There he surrenders it, together with proof of his unemployment. Then he must wait for nine days before his benefit starts. It continues thereafter until he finds work again, or until he has drawn one payment for every five contributions made over a maximum period of five years—less one payment for every three benefits drawn within the previous five years.

RESTRICTIONS

In qualifying for benefits, the nine-day waiting period is a cumulative one. That is to say, it may be made up of odd days of unemployment suffered before any period of idleness sufficiently lengthy to permit a claim against the fund.

While drawing his insurance benefit, the unemployed person is subject to certain restrictions. If he is reasonably convenient to an employment office he must report as often as instructed. In case of employment turning up to which he can be sent. If he is a mobile worker—free, that is to say, of family responsibilities—he may be directed to employment elsewhere than in his own neighborhood. If he lacks the money to get to his job, the employment office may lend him sufficient for necessary traveling expenses, and he must repay the advance out of his earnings. He must be prepared, finally, to take a course of instruction in any trade that the employment officials direct. If lack of training is proving a handicap in placing him.

Failure to acquiesce in any one of these conditions means automatic disqualification from further benefits.

GENEROUS

The likelihood is that at least 75 employment offices will be opened across the Dominion to service the insurance scheme. ## Japan Is Worried

THOSE IN OUR MIDST WHO STILL think we ought to be "nice to Japan" and consider carefully what we say about her and her statesmen evidently are a good deal more afraid of the consequences of normal repugnance to her type of axis behaviour than are the Chinese who have stood her off for the last three and a half years. We are reminded of this by a report from Tokyo that the Japanese government would not be averse to a direct discussion of the possibilities of peace with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. To this suggestion, however, Dr. H. H. Kung, vice-premier and Minister of Finance, replies that China "is not interested in words but deeds"—and intimates for everybody's benefit that "Japan can have peace any time she wants it by withdrawing all troops from China."

Japanese business—the men not fooled by specious propaganda—is far from happy about the present situation in the Orient. The nation's traders are confronted with serious difficulties, serious shortages, with no likelihood of improving matters even though the scope of the present European conflict does not expand; and at the back of the general domestic situation is the growing knowledge that the "incident" in China is becoming more complicated and ramified as day follows day. They feel, too, that the prospect of Moscow curtailing her assistance to Chiang Kai-shek's cause is as remote now as ever. It was Molotov's visit to Berlin notwithstanding. Stalin's elephantine memory recalls the war of 1904-1905 and the Treaty of Portsmouth by which Japan profited in substantial material and political considerations at Russia's expense.

Now that Canada and the United States—at long last—have foregone certain temporary monetary advantages in order to strengthen China's resistance to the same type of brutality as that to which Britain and Canadians in Britain are being subjected, the alarm among the men of Tokyo has immeasurably increased; and not all the edicts the two European gangsters may issue about a new order in Asia will enhance their peace of mind. Nor are they treating lightly the growing demand in the neighboring republic that the first sign Japan gives of seriously disturbing the status quo in the Pacific should be met at once with a challenge by the United States fleet and by the taking of such other measures as may be considered necessary.

Too Complicated

THE NUMBER OF TAXES WHICH would face them in Canada would probably appall industrialists contemplating transfer of their plants and business. The Toronto Globe and Mail estimates that the various Canadian governments tap some 500 sources of revenue. Making reports to Dominion and provincial departments has become a costly burden by itself. In one province are 20 channels through which money is collected, and in another more than 100. The evil has been accumulating strength with the years.

In Ontario, for example, at the beginning of the century an insignificant amount of revenue came from taxes. Then levies were imposed on banks, insurance companies, loan and trust companies, railways, telegraphs, gas and electric companies and other business activities. Originally, the Dominion subsidy, fees, fines, licenses and the public domain fed the Treasury. Now government expenditures are met chiefly by corporation taxes, succession duties, income taxes, mining taxation, gasoline taxes, motor licenses and liquor. Also, there is no uniformity among the provinces. The multitude and variation of the imposts are enough to confound any businessman from another land where the government machinery is simple by comparison.

Our tax complications undoubtedly have hampered business and restricted the flow of capital. Transfer to a central taxing body of many of them would ensure uniformity, reduce the number of collections and, in numerous instances, be more economical, while business would be less discouraged in the promotion of interprovincial trade.

Bishop and Pope

HIS RECENT ADDRESS TO THE Chelmsford Diocesan Conference apparently has plunged Dr. Henry Wilson, its Bishop, into a large lake of hot water. His remarks referred to "the abject failure of the Pope to give spiritual guidance to the people who look to him for spiritual leadership," and he added that the Papacy was anti-British and anti-Democratic. In the latest issue of the Diocesan Chronicle, Dr. Wilson returns to the subject, and says he was "particularly referring to the Pope's stance since Italy entered the war." And he goes on to say that "despite the many violent letters I have received I regret I cannot modify this." His Lordship adds:

"The Pope is an Italian living in Rome under the shadow of Mussolini. He has to guide him the most astute masters of foreign policy, and it would be remarkable indeed if he were not to follow the example of many of his predecessors and endeavor to turn things to his advantage." Nobody would be so foolish as to suggest that if the Pope were to head a parade of his Cardinals through the streets of Rome, calling upon adherents of the Roman Catholic Church the world over to join him in a spiritual resolve, he might persuade Mussolini to withdraw from his unholy alliance with his Germanic master. Nevertheless, stranger things may happen, through sheer weight of circumstances or political and financial expediency, before the war has been brought to a conclusion.

For the moment, however, His Holiness has proclaimed next Sunday a day of "holy masses and public prayer to be offered throughout the world for the present needs of human society." The Pope asks that such prayers be accompanied by "acts of penance and by spiritual improvement in each one's life," expressing the hope that in consequence of these exercises, "all those who die as the result of war may find eternal rest; that exiles, refugees, prisoners, and all who suffer or mourn through the calamity of the present conflict may have heavenly comforts of grace; that, finally, order being restored in justice and minds being appeased through Christian charity, true peace may unite as brothers all the peoples of the human family, giving them back tranquillity and prosperity."

These are noble sentiments; encyclical dicta usually are perfection—if we may be pardoned the term—in classical wishful thinking. His Holiness Pope Pius XII might be thrown into a concentration camp were he to summon his people to hear him denounce Italy's part in this war—and especially the contribution which Mussolini the jackal is making toward its prolongation and misery. But another plain man 2,000 years ago set a precedent by defying the dictator of that day. He was crucified and did not complain.

Hertzog and Malan Part

TWO WEEKS AGO, GENERAL J. B. M. Hertzog, former Prime Minister of South Africa, resigned the leadership of the "re-united" Nationalist Party of the Free State—taken at the time to mean that he had quarreled with Dr. D. F. Malan and his extreme republican followers. How complete is the "split" is disclosed in a dispatch from London today which informs us that the veteran statesman has advised his supporters to back the government candidate in a by-election in Winburg.

The progress of events naturally will disclose whether this new turn in South African politics presages a reconciliation between Hertzog and Smuts—with whom the former was associated until his defeat on his war policy on the outbreak of hostilities—or whether the erstwhile ardent Nationalist will content himself with a species of benevolent neutrality in regard to governmental policy.

In view of today's developments it is interesting to recall again that for more than a quarter of a century after the close of the Boer War in 1902, General Hertzog was the chief protagonist in the cause for protection of Dutch interests in South Africa against the tide of strong British ideas which followed in the wake of the new British order. He formed the Nationalist Party which had for its object the return of the Transvaal and Orange Free State to republican status. In the 1924 elections, however, he combined forces with the Labor Party to defeat Prime Minister Smuts' administration; but, as part of the bargain for Labor support, he consented to drop his separatist policy. Soon after he assumed the Premiership he began to mellow; and his first imperial conference in 1926 completed the job. On his return from London he announced to the South African people he had not discovered anything outside the British Commonwealth that his country could not share and enjoy as a partner within its framework.

It was his motion in September, 1939, seeking to retain diplomatic association with Germany, which caused Premier Hertzog's defeat and resulted in the return to power of his erstwhile colleague and former opponent.

Mussolini's men probably now agree with General Sherman in his description of war.

The why and wherefore the Duce's foray into Greece is being analyzed by military experts. A thought is that he couldn't have expected to find the British fleet in the mountains.

TOTAL WAR—NOT A TARIFF ISSUE

From Winnipeg Tribune

As the Tribune has already made plain, there might well be "obstacles" to the removal of tariffs on British textiles, even though the Canadian textile industry is working at full blast and even filling certain orders for Britain. But are such obstructions to be tolerated in this crisis?

Mr. Paul Reading puts his finger on the central point of the whole issue when he mentions "total war." Tariff schedules, "protection" and commercial horse-trading generally, are hopelessly out of place in a total war. In an all-out war, the sole criteria which should be used are the needs of Britain and the capacity of Canada to supply those needs.

There was a fable, at the end of the last war, that rent was charged for the trenches occupied by Allied troops in western Europe. Fantastic, of course. But, in its way, not more fantastic than charging tariffs upon British goods, every last cent of whose purchase price goes into supplying Great Britain with the sinews of our common effort in the Battle of Britain.

An entirely new approach should be made toward the question of aiding Britain to finance her war effort. Parliament should re-examine the whole problem of credits and of tariffs against British goods.

"Early developments on the financial front between Britain and Canada" are long overdue.

DROPSY

VICTORIA, IF MY first observations are correct, is showing every sign of prosperity these days. We seem to be getting fat on the war. I wonder how many people realize that it is only a form of dropsy?

Not many, apparently. Having talked to some of our eminent public leaders I am forced to the conclusion that either they don't understand what is happening or else all the laws of economics, all the convictions of the best thinkers and the whole experience of history are quite wrong. On the whole, I would rather trust history.

What is happening is really very simple. You won't want to hear about it, of course. You would rather enjoy your dropsy. But as I have had no time yet to look about me and find out something really interesting, like the future of our civic air raid shelter on Pandora Avenue, or the annual problem of oak leaves, I shall use this space today in a discussion of dropsy.

MAXIMUM

IN CANADA we have only so many workers and so many machines. When you have brought them together and set them working as hard as they can, you have achieved maximum production. You can produce no more.

We shall reach that point soon, probably within a year. If we could use all the goods we shall produce at that point, we would be more prosperous than ever before. There would be more goods for all of us. Unhappily we cannot use these goods. A large part of them are going into the war, and the man has yet to be born who can eat or wear a tank, a cannon or an airplane. While these things are more important just now than anything else we can produce, economically they are a dead loss, and all the work that goes into them—speaking economically—is wasted.

Thus, even when all our machines and workers are operating at their maximum we shall have less useable goods in the country than we had last year or the year before, or during the worst of the depression. For no matter how hard we produce, the government will be sure to take more and more for the war and other essential, but noneconomic purposes.

SPREADING IT THIN

THE ILLUSION OF greater prosperity is created by the employment of many people who had no jobs before, and by the full employment of many who had only partial employment before. The very poor benefit by this process. They get more goods. But as the total supply of goods is less than before, obviously the more prosperous classes must have fewer goods.

We are witnessing, in fact, not an increase in total prosperity but a vast redistribution of wealth, an equalization such as no socialist had dared to hope for. The fact that you have not begun to feel the process yourself yet, does not alter the obvious facts. Don't worry—you will.

The problem in Canada today is to prevent everybody scrambling for the reduced supply of goods. If we are going to have a national auction sale, with everybody bidding higher than his neighbor, we shall see such an increase in prices as will ruin everybody. Wages will never keep up to them. And if we try to apply the economic salve of the monetary mystics, if we give the country a shot in the arm or a dose of social credit, if we issue more money, it simply means that the process will be aggravated. Each dollar will buy less and it will be the poor who will suffer most. No program of soaking the rich, no change in the economic system, can alter the basic fact that we must live, as a nation, on less goods so long as the war lasts.

HAVE WE THE SENSE?

THE PROBLEM a few months ago was to distribute a surplus of goods. Soon the problem will be to distribute a scarcity of goods as fairly as possible. That means, of course, concentrating on the production of necessities and cutting down on the production of luxuries that we can do without.

I am not sure we shall do this. I am not sure that we have the sense to do it. Very likely, deceived by the dropical appearance of our society, by the heavily-laden, crowded streets of places like Victoria, we shall go on dizzily, bidding up prices, swelling our provincial budget and having ourselves a h— of a time. If we do, it will ruin us all in the end. Our dropsy will prove fatal.

EXPLANATION NEEDED

To the Editor:—We are prepared (and I venture to speak for the other parents), to lose our sons, if necessary, in battle. But we were not prepared, nor are we resigned to their loss in a collision. It's grim irony that the survivors of the Fraser should go down in a similar accident. Such a thing calls for the fullest investigation, and the blame, if blame there be, placed on those responsible for it. Ships can be replaced, but our sons can never be returned to us, nor anything fill the terrible gap left in our lives by their loss.

TAX TROUBLE IN SAANICH

To the Editor:—If the residents of Saanich have any interest in their taxation problem they do not show it by attendance at advertised meetings. There is at the present moment a bill before the municipal committee of the Legislature to limit taxation on land to 25 mills and raise taxation on improvements to 50 per cent of assessment. This means, if accepted, a further increase in taxes next year, in spite of the fact that during the past five years taxes on improvements have increased from 15 per cent to 45 per cent.

What are we getting for this increased taxation? We have no sewerage system, poor roads, few sidewalks and not even surface drains. Taxes on land have been reduced at the expense of the home builder.

The bill now before the House was strenuously objected to by the councillors of Wards 2 and 7, but they had no chance of winning against five votes of the outer wards. So it looks as if a minority vote of taxpayers stand a chance of forcing their opinions on the majority vote of taxpayers.

This cannot surely be for the good of the people in general, even if it is the wish of a percentage of the council.

I understand that the only beneficiary would be the large farmer. The small farmer is and will be in the same class as the householder. Surely matters of this kind could be settled without the aid of the government.

In the event of the bill before the House being accepted, what will be the tax percentage when sewers, etc., are installed. No taxpayer, I think, objects to paying for improvements he has, but he certainly does for something he hasn't got.

Our reeve, according to press reports, is stated to have said that home builders only came to Saanich from the city for cheap taxation, and that our improvement tax should be on a comparable level with city tax to prevent the exodus. Figure that out, Mr. Taxpayer.

He is also quoted as suggesting that in the event of the bill not passing the rural wards may secede. It may be very much in the interest of Saanich if they did. The municipality is too large and unwieldy.

I think we all realize that the farmer's problem calls for sympathy, but not at the expense of the homeowner, for he has his problems also.

I wish to congratulate Councilman Passmore for his action in voicing his opinion to the Legislature committee, for he is, as far as I know, the only taxpayer concerned to have taken up the matter.

TRAVEL TO CANADA

From Daily Mirror, New York

It is generally agreed that most Americans want to knit the nations of this hemisphere in a solid bloc that can resist any attempted invasion. It is further agreed that most Americans want to aid England in any way short of war. Best way to contribute to both these ends is to spend your "travel dollars" in Canada.

Alarmists should not be permitted to fan rumors about border inspection into foolish fears that will keep Americans from planning a trip to Canada.

The simple fact is that no more identification than a voter's registration certificate or membership in any automobile club is needed for entry into Canada, or return to America.

OUT OF THE ARMY

To the Editor:—On September 1, 1939, I left a good job and on September 11 joined the R.C.A. My catalogue was A1 and I did my best to live up to the traditions of the armed forces of Canada.

On October 12, 1940, after one year and 32 days of service I was discharged being medically unfit for further service.

The point is I have looked for work for the past month as truck driver, clerk or anything that isn't too heavy, the answer always being either "we can't use you" or "on account of your medical trouble" and "we are full up."

Who are they full up with? In many cases it's boys, ages ranging from 14 to 18, in others it's women that have replaced the men. If this is the case, what chances have the boys who are still serving going to have when the war is over? Also if a few of us can't obtain work, what is it going to be when thousands come back and need work.

I would be very grateful if anyone reading this would kindly let me know of anything.

"I CAN'T PRAISE MOSBY'S TONIC ENOUGH!" STATES A LAKE COWICHAN, B.C., LADY

She Describes How She Had Suffered Over a Long Period of Time, Due to Upset, Gaseous Stomach and Finally Got Mosby's Tonic. Read the Sincere Statement of Mrs. Sydney Carreck of Lake Cowichan, B.C., Which Appears Below

MRS. SYDNEY CARRECK of Lake Cowichan, B.C., Who Says: "I Had a Long Period of Suffering With My Stomach But Just 2 Bottles of MOSBY'S TONIC Made Me Feel Better Than IN YEARS. This Medicine is Splendid."

Thousands in this Victoria Section now say: "MOSBY'S TONIC helped me IN GENERAL. I never found anything as helpful before!" This is the Splendid Mixture of Roots and Herbs and Other Efficacious Ingredients, now being introduced to the public daily here in this city at the Cunningham Drug Store, Fort and Douglas Streets. It contains over 20 ingredients. So it accomplishes several things within the human system at one and the same time. That is why it has such splendid action on so many who suffer. Some of the roots and herbs in Mosby's Tonic clear away the gas and pains from the stomach; others help cleanse the bowels; still others invigorate the kidney and liver action, and others relieve the pain of neuritic and rheumatic trouble, due to contaminated, clogged system. Weak, sickly, constipated men and women get such a cleansing and invigorating from Mosby's Tonic that they soon feel different all over.

Two Bottles of Mosby's Tonic Gave Relief

"I tried many different medicines and treatments, but during all the time of my suffering I got no real benefit. Then, recently, I began to read in the papers about Mosby's Tonic and what it was doing for so many people in this vicinity. So I got it and started taking it. Will say that this medicine is splendid. Just two bottles stopped my years of suffering. Can eat most anything I want now and no gas or distress afterward. In fact, my stomach feels better now than IN YEARS. And to show you how well my meals digest, will say that I have more strength and energy. I can't praise Mosby's Tonic enough after what it did for me and gladly give this statement, endorsing it TO ALL."

New Compound Contains 15 Roots and Herbs

People all over Victoria and throughout this section are publicly endorsing MOSBY'S TONIC. For instance, just a few days ago, Mrs. Sydney Carreck of Lake Cowichan, B.C., made the following statement:

Distressing Gas and Bloat and Indigestion Pain

"For a long period of time I had been a regular victim of stomach gas and pain," said Mrs. Carreck. "At first I would have only occasional spells of indigestion, but gradually this became worse, until finally, I got to a place where I suffered after almost every meal. Large quantities of gas would form and bloat me up, and at times I couldn't breathe right, due to the pressure from this gas. I got nervous as a result of this suffering, and became run down in general, for it just seemed like my food wouldn't do me any good. It just laid in my stomach and refused to digest properly and caused many hours of distress."

MOSBY'S TONIC contains 15 Roots and Herbs. These herbal extracts are blended with 5 Other Splendid Medicinal Agents. So it accomplishes several things at the same time. For instance, it acts on bowels as a laxative and helps cleanse out old impure substance that often causes headaches, dizzy spells, skin eruptions and worn-out feeling; it brings forth gas and bloat from stomach and relieves gas pains and swelling and gas distress. It helps Nature flush excess impurity from kidneys which may have been the real reason all along for backache and night rising. It stimulates the flow of liver bile. In short, due to its many ingredients, this medicine acts as a purgative, laxative, cholagogue and diuretic all at the same time. Weak, worn-out people write us daily they get such a cleansing and invigorating from Mosby's Tonic that they soon feel like different men and women. Another thing—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the Price of Mosby's Tonic is Reasonable. So don't hesitate. Get this Splendid Medicine—TODAY—and start taking it!

MOSBY'S TONIC is sold in Victoria at The CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE, Fort and Douglas Streets, and also by all Leading Druggists throughout Victoria and Vancouver Island.

Anscomb Describes Budget as Shameful

"Shameful and wicked" was the way Herbert Anscomb, Conservative financial critic, described Hon. John Hart's 1941-42 budget in the Legislature yesterday.

"It is shameful," he said, "that the minister should so forget his responsibilities in this time of crisis—should so forget the sacrifices that all mankind are now making—that for the second time during the war he should present a budget that extended the gross extravagances that he instituted in peacetime."

He said Mr. Hart could be forgiven for last year's budget because the seriousness of things was not then fully realized. But there was no excuse for a $700,000 increase in expenditure next year.

QUESTION OF CREDIT

He said the treasury's recent $5,000,000 refunding and road loan had "not gone over so good," and this was an indication of the credit of the province was not as high as the Finance Minister claimed.

"Don't forget the second war loan was floated just before that," interjected Mr. Hart.

"Yes, but Toronto floated a big issue successfully at the same time," said Mr. Anscomb.

Mr. Anscomb said the government's attitude toward municipalities was amazing. While handing them a "stone" instead of proper relief in the budget it had at the same time decided to impose on them a levy of 7 per cent on teachers' salaries for pensions which would amount to about $420,000 a year.

Turning to the Rowell report, Mr. Anscomb insisted the government should give the House a clear idea of what it felt about the recommendations.

BALANCE AGAINST B.C.

Mr. Anscomb said if the Dominion took over the debt it would relieve B.C. of charges which amounted last year to $7,780,000, and in taking the income tax and succession duty revenues would get $9,206,000 in revenue, so that the balance on the deal was already against the province. That made it important to give the closest study to the entire proposal. With increased population and industrial activity some might live to see the income tax revenue amount to $20,000,000.

WANTS BORROWING CONTROL

Mr. Anscomb declared himself definitely opposed to one phase of the Rowell report—that which would give provinces control over future borrowing for productive works after they have turned existing debt over to the Dominion.

In reference to the succession duties he advocated repeal of the duties entirely on estates invested in the province, saying this would attract a great deal of latent capital to the province from all over the world. Capital was now looking for a safe haven, he said.

WANTS ALLOWANCES MADE

He urged that as a patriotic gesture the province allow deduction of the new heavy federal war taxes from income or profits before the provincial income tax was imposed.

"Right now," he said, "the province itself is making no contribution to the war in any way whatsoever. In fact the province, as a province, is doing exceedingly well out of the war. It is out of the war effort that revenues are increasing. Its relief problem has already been reduced by 50 per cent."

In other parts of his address Mr. Anscomb flayed the federal government on its war effort. He declared naturalization of foreigners should not be permitted in wartime, decried Ottawa's failure to accept the Attorney General's suggestion for the internment of Peter G. Hartnell, and to end the Japanese immigration agreement.

"What's needed down there is a little courage and iron such as being displayed in Britain," he said. "Britain opened the Burma Road against all threats of the Japanese government but Canada hasn't the courage to deal with a little matter of immigration which, while it looks small, is vital to the future of British Columbia and as time goes on will prove vital to Canada as a whole."

Don't Hamstring Canada Warns C.C.F. Speaker

Face the need of a stronger national organization or get out of Confederation.

This was the keynote speech of the C.C.F. attitude toward the Rowell-Strods report, voiced in the Legislature yesterday by Mrs. D. G. Steeves, North Vancouver member.

"If B.C., through its Liberal government, is going to stand out for the same old condition of little Balkan states right across Canada then we should do the logical thing and get out of Confederation," Mrs. Steeves said. "But as a part of Confederation we must do our part in the new alignment of Dominion-provincial relations."

Mrs. Steeves devoted her entire address to the Rowell report, carrying out the C.C.F. intent of debating the subject fully during the budget argument.

DON'T HAMSTRING CANADA

"We are first of all Canadians, and second British Columbians. Otherwise we should not be in Confederation," she declared. The Premier had spoken of B.C. being hog-tied and hamstrung, but British Columbians must ask themselves whether they were going to hang on like grim death to their provincial rights at the expense of hamstringing and hamstrung the whole of Canada.

She said the government's presentation to the commission, a perfect example of trying to have one's cake and eat it too, gave some idea of the government's attitude.

"I have often wondered how a responsible lawyer could bring himself to present such a illogical mulligan," she said.

"I do not think the people of B.C. would want such an attitude to be taken again. The problem must be viewed fundamentally as a Canadian problem and our solution must be a national solution."

JUSTIFIED ITSELF

Mrs. Steeves said the commission had already justified itself, because it had written an entirely new economic history of Canada which would be the basis of research for years to come. It was a story of unplanned, chaotic development, subject to violent fluctuations of politicians trying to make the best out of an immediate situation confronting them, the sport of economic forces over which they had no control.

All historians, she said, agreed the Fathers of Confederation intended a strong central government for Canada, as they had given residuary powers to Ottawa.

The report also brought out the

Wants Soldier Lands Set Aside

Drafting of a land settlement policy, particularly a classification of lands that will be open to soldier settlement after the war, was again urged upon the government in the Legislature yesterday.

Mark M. Connelly, Liberal, Omineca, acted as spokesman for the Liberal settlement bloc in voicing the plea.

He saw probability that great numbers of soldiers would want to take up homesteads when peace came and urged the province to be ready for them.

Mr. Connelly said the Menonite settlement in his district was showing every sign of success.

"And just a bit of advice to any young fellows looking for a wife," he said. "They have big families up there and the sweetest girls you ever saw. If they raise crops like they raise children they'll flood the markets with goods."

Mr. Connelly appealed for lowering the old age pension limit to 65 years and wiping out of red tape in acquiring of pensions. Old folks were humiliated now, he said, in having to meet so many requirements.

He said all northern members opposed a highway commission. It would be just too bad for the northern districts if a commission had control, he said, because the north needed roads for economic development and would just get the "left-overs" from a commission.

He touched only briefly on the budget, describing it as "lovely to look at, delightful to know and encouraging to hear."

New Gyro Directors

At a dinner meeting of the Gyro Club last night at Terry's, five members were elected to serve as directors for the ensuing year. They are: Ernest Brown, Louis Glazan, Fred Hawes, Fred Manning and Tommy Watkins.

This completes the list of officers chosen to manage the business of the club. Earlier in the week, William J. Clarke, Neil H. Grant and Harold L. Butters were unanimously named as president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. An installation party will be held on Saturday night at Colwood Golf Club.

Reports read at the meeting included the president's report, read by the retiring president, Art Minnis; speakers' committee by Neil Grant; attendance committee and secretary-treasurer by H. L. Butters; and boys' work and service club council by Fred Hawes.

A vote of thanks to A. J. Minnis and other officials retiring with him from club office was moved by Archie Willis.

absolute dependence of the country on export markets and conditions dictated by the rest of the world. In B.C. this was more true than any other province.

FEDERAL NEEDS POWER

The hard facts of the depression had brought home that the only government which could act efficiently was the national government, but it lacked power because of the way the B.N.A. was interpreted.

"Since then," she said, "the war has intervened, we see our world in the throes of a social revolution and the probability is that governments in the future will be called upon for far more drastic and revolutionary action than was ever dreamed of. Looking at the world of 1940 we must know that just a few reforms and fiscal changes will not do, but we must prepare ourselves for a new kind of world."

Any conference on the subject should take the view that it was not merely a measure for the more efficient waging of the war, but that delegates were there to design a blueprint to enable Canada to go forward in peacetime to a new life.

"We will have to go forward to national unity under a federal government which has strong powers to do the necessary things for progress and planning, and at the same time ensuring to the provinces the freedom to develop according to their own peculiar conditions; and particularly to the progressive provinces the opportunity to pioneer in social services, education and labor legislation. I think a formula can be found for this, and to a certain extent the Sirols report shows us the way."

Admitting B.C. might lose financially at the start of the plan she said it would benefit in the long run, warning that its economic position was highly vulnerable and required the most careful planning.

If it lost the income tax and succession duties, there would be other revenue fields left, such as increased timber royalties and government operation of utilities and industries. Even a capital levy was possible.

FLIGHT-LIEUT AND MRS. G. M. FAWCETT

Two interesting military weddings which took place here yesterday: Left, Flight-Lieutenant Maurice Fawcett, R.C.A.F., and his radiant bride, the former Helen Eve, snapped by the Times cameraman as they left the Patricia Bay Air Force station chapel after their wedding last night. Right, Captain C. M. R. Elmsley, R.C.O.C., and Mrs. Elmsley, the former Margot Greer, leaving Our Lady Queen of Peace Church after their wedding yesterday morning.

CAPT. AND MRS. C. M. R. ELSLEY

Helen Eve Bride at Air Force Station Wedding

Two well-known young people were the principals in the first wedding to be solemnized at the new Royal Canadian Air Force Station at Patricia Bay last evening at 8, when Helen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Eve, 1091 St. David Street, Oak Bay, became the bride of Flight-Lieutenant G. Maurice (Tap) Fawcett, R.C.A.F., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Fawcett of View Royal, Esquimalt.

The ceremony was performed in the station chapel, which had been specially decorated with bunting, flags and masses of yellow and white chrysanthemums by the bridegroom's fellow-officers. Rev. T. R. Lancaster of Holy Trinity Church, Patricia Bay, officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was an attractive figure in her two-piece ensemble in periwinkle blue crepe, the long-sleeved, fitted coat embroidered in gold thread with which she wore a smart navy blue belt and accessories, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Miss Betty Mercer of Vancouver, daughter of Group-Captain and Mrs. G. A. Mercer, was the only bridesmaid, in a smart pleated frock of black crepe with hat and accessories to match, and a corsage bouquet of Tailsman roses. Flying Officer John Parker, R.C.A.F., was groomsmen.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the mess. Mrs. Eve received the guests in a navy blue crepe afternoon frock with georgette top, worn with a short jacket, small model hat of navy silk taffeta, assisted by the bridegroom's mother, wearing an afternoon-frock-of-crepe-in-Indian earth color, with wide corset belt embroidered in gold and a black hat and accessories.

Supper was served from a table arranged with flowers and the bride's cake. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Walter Loney, an old friend of the bride's family.

Flight-Lieutenant and Mrs. Fawcett will leave next Sunday by plane for Ottawa, where they will reside until the bridegroom's departure to take a special three months' course in England. Mrs. Fawcett will then visit relatives in New York.

The sum of £200 has been sent to England and a motorized utility wagon will soon follow.

Miss Tomkins, who was receiving upward of $2,000 from Zonta friends in the United States and from Zonta Clubs in Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, St. Catharines and Windsor, said today that the form of the gifts was decided on after communication with Dame Helen Gwynn Vaughn, head of the Women's Auxiliary Services in England.

Early Church Music Theme of Address

An interesting address on "Early Church Music," illustrated with records and going back to the fourth century to show its evolution, was given by Rev. J. H. H. Watts of Brentwood College before the Victoria branch of the Toronto Conservatory Alumni Association at its meeting last night at the home of Mrs. T. W. A. Gray, Rockland Avenue.

Miss Gwendolyn Harper, the president, conducted the short business meeting. She welcomed three new members, Miss Daisy Gaetz, Miss Dorothy Yates and Mrs. Neil Perry; announced that during the next month the constitution would be received from Toronto and an effort made to organize with the headquarters, and stated that the next meeting would be on January 20 at her own home, 1020 Bank Street. Reference was made to the presentation to the retiring president, Mrs. George Phillips, the gift of Moorcroft pottery being accompanied by a card expressing the members' appreciation of her able leadership during her term of office.

The musical part of the program, which was conveyed by Mr. Leslie Butt, included two much enjoyed vocal solos by Mr. David Oldham, "My Love Abode" (Schubert) and "Song of Hybla, the Cretan," by J. W. Elliott, the accompanist being Mr. Edgar Holloway.

Following the thanks to those taking part on the program, members adjourned to the dining-room for refreshments, Mrs. C. S. Beals assisting the hostess, Mrs. Gray, by presiding at the coffee urn.

Local Girl Wins Music Scholarship

One of Victoria's promising young musicians, Phyllis Muriel Hick, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hick, 1400 Hillside Avenue, has won one of two scholarships awarded in British Columbia by the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music, London, England, for pianoforte, having recently taken her examination in Grade 8 (final). This scholarship entitles her to two years' tuition, both pianoforte and violin, at the Royal College, London, England, which may be commenced next year, or, if war conditions still prevail, may be postponed for a further year or perhaps longer.

Miss Hick, who graduated from Victoria High School in June of this year, was taught pianoforte by her mother and up till the present was awarded a "distinction" in each of the examinations. She started her violin studies with Edgar Holgate.

She has also taken violin examinations, Grades 4 and 5 under Miss Dorothy Francis, passing each with distinction. She has appeared on the concert platform, both alone and in duet work with her brother, Bernard Hick, on several occasions, including the competition performances of the Victoria Musical Festival. In 1939 the brother and sister won the Harold Samuel "Bach" Memorial Trophy at the Festival.

Eire May Take Some Evacuees

LONDON (CP)—Negotiations that may lead to evacuation of tens of thousands of women and children from bombed British areas to Eire are proceeding between J. W. Dulaney, Eire High Commissioner in London, and Lord Cranborne, Dominions Secretary.

Prime Minister de Valera is understood to have initiated the discussions after the torpedoing of the liner City of Benares in which 81 children being evacuated to Canada were drowned.

When Mr. de Valera learned of the tragedy he called a meeting of his ministers to consider what Eire could do to help the evacuation of British children and their mothers. His suggestion for consultation between the two governments was welcomed in London as "a great gesture" and the British government is anxious to take the fullest possible advantage of Eire's offer of hospitality.

"No decision has yet been reached on matters of detail, but it is probable that any scheme will have to be confined to women and children with relatives or friends in Eire who are willing to take them in," an official in close touch with the negotiations said.

"The British government is considering the question of providing free travel vouchers for evacuees unable to pay their own fares, and it is even possible that arrangements will be made to pay billeting allowances. It is certain, however, that no evacuees will be sent to Eire unless it is known that they have homes to go to there."

Cool Water Helped Teach Helen Keller

To "hear" with her hands and to "see" with her fingers!

That is what Helen Keller learned to do, and through that learning, she managed to use the voice which, in a sense, she lost after a tragic event when she was only an infant.

Helen Keller writing a book on special machine for the blind.

As a baby, starting life in a small flower-and-vine-covered house in an Alabama village, Helen was like other infants, but at the age of one and a half, she became ill. It appears that the doctor did not know much about what was wrong with her, though he called the sickness "congestion of the stomach and brain."

There was fear that the little one might die, but at last she became well again—except that she could no longer hear or see!

Then followed dark years. She forgot words she had learned, because she did not hear them. Her father and mother cared for the child lovingly until they were able to obtain a teacher for her.

On a day in March, 1887, Miss Anne Sullivan came to Alabama to teach the child, then not quite seven years old. The teaching given by this young woman from the East proved to be the most important help in Helen Keller's life.

Slowly, by hard painful steps, the little girl worked her way out of the darkness.

In later years Miss Keller told how she learned the real meaning of the words which Miss Sullivan "spelled into her hand."

The teacher tried to show her "hat the touches for 'd-o-l-l' meant 'doll,' and that 'w-a-t-e-r' meant water, but the child did not really know what it was all about until one day:

"We walked down the path to the well-house. . . . Someone was drawing water, and my teacher placed my hand under the spout. As the cool stream gushed over one hand, she spelled into the other the word 'water.' I stood still, my whole attention fixed upon the motion of her fingers. Suddenly . . . I knew that 'water' meant the wonderful cool something that was flowing over my hand."

From that point, Helen's progress was rapid. She learned hundreds of other words which were spelled into her hands. By feeling the throat and tongue of the one speaking to her, she learned to speak, and the time came when she gave lectures to large crowds.

Miss Keller was graduated, with honors, from Radcliffe college in 1904. She is the author of several books, including "The Story of My Life," a finely-written account of her childhood and young womanhood.

HOROSCOPE

Wednesday, November 20

After the early hours today, adverse aspects are strongly dominant. It is forbidding for constructive work. Accidents where machinery is involved may be numerous.

In the household there should be understanding and forbearance. Domestic harmony is indicated as likely to prevail, despite economic problems affecting the young. This is not a promising way for love affairs which may be of brief duration. Warning is given that the lure of a uniform may be most unfortunate at this time when young men are susceptible but changeable.

As food is widely discussed in contemplation of Europe's needs, there will be novel methods of concentrating nourishment and condensing bulk. Scientific feeding will be of worldwide concern, for disease will be prevalent among victims of the war, especially among children.

Education that prepares young men and women for public service as well as private careers will be widely advocated. Realization that years will pass before world peace can be established on a firm foundation will affect the national point of view. An

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am in love and dreadfully unhappy. I met a boy at a dance and knew at once that he was the only one for me. For three evenings he monopolized my time completely, but since then he seems to have forgotten me entirely and I have never heard from him. In desperation I ran after him shamefully and tried to find out all about his family and friends, which made him very angry. What can I do to make him love me? If you can't suggest something, I shall take the only way out and kill myself. At least he might come to my funeral.

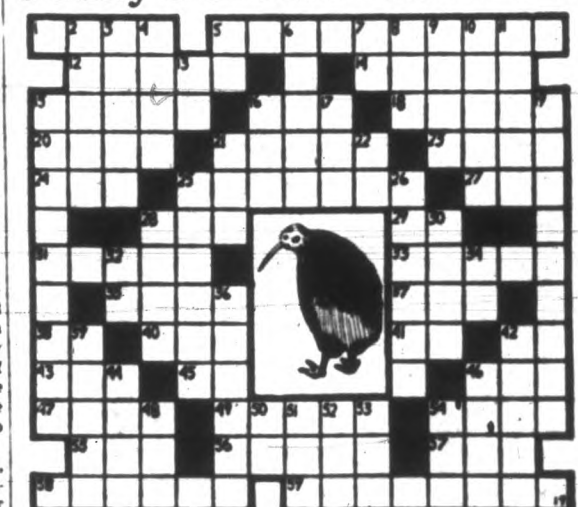

HEARTBROKEN.

Answer: It seems to me that it is a waste of powder for a pretty young girl to kill herself for one man when there are so many other attractive lads all about. Anyway, don't commit suicide until you have given the once-over to a few of the others and see if you can't find one who looks as good to you as your charmer. Like cures like, you know, as the homeopaths say, and certainly there is no such effective remedy for healing a broken heart as a new love affair.

Aias, I fear I can tell you no way in which to make a man love you who doesn't love. Love is a miracle that every woman must work for herself. Somehow, somehow, she must make herself desirable in a man's eyes and how she does this neither he nor she knows.

DOROTHY DIX.

J. FORMAN HEADS EMPIRE LOYALISTS

Forty-six members of the United Empire Loyalists gathered in Spencer's last evening for their annual dinner, heard an address on loyalty to the British Empire by Albert Sullivan, inspector of high schools in the province, and elected officers for 1941 headed by the president, James Forman.

Miss P. Winslow was chosen recording secretary and Mrs. G. S. Ap' John Yardley corresponding secretary. Mrs. R. W. Shannon was named treasurer and Mrs. G. Bjornsfeldt historian. B. Fisher was elected first vice-president and Mrs. H. M. Taylor second vice-president. Elected to the executive committee were the retiring president, F. E. Winslow, and G. Hamilton Harman, J. Brown, Mrs. M. Anderson, Mrs. T. M. Powers Potts and Mrs. J. H. Mullard.

In his address, prior to the election, Mr. Sullivan told of how the ancestors of the loyalists fought for liberty in England and how they carried freedom of speech, the right to worship, freedom of the press and freedom of education to North America.

"We are fighting in order that this liberty may never be denied us," the speaker said.

After living for many years in the southern part of the continent the American Revolution came and those who were loyal to the Crown—who believed the British government would always endure—moved to Canada. They were deprived of practically all their possessions when the treaties were signed ending the revolution and the British government aided them in their move northward.

Mr. Sullivan then spoke of his experiences with Loyalists in the Fiji Islands, New Zealand and Australia whom he had met on an educational tour last year. He gave many instances of loyalty to the British Empire by the peoples in those countries.

The speaker was thanked for his address by James Forman. A toast to United Empire Loyalists was proposed in rhyme by Mrs. G. Bjornsfeldt. G. Hamilton Harman was in the chair.

VICTORIA SOLDIER MEETS QUEEN MARY

Mrs. P. W. Murray, 1243 Lyall Street, Esquimalt, has just learned from her husband, serving in England with the 2nd Battalion Anti-Tank Battery, that he met and spoke to the Queen mother, with other men of the forces after attending a divine service. Queen Mary mingled with the men, chatting with each one for a short time.

Mr. Murray writes that he was thrilled when Queen Mary asked him what part of Canada he came from. When she questioned him about his family, he took from his pocket a photograph he always carries of his wife and little daughter, the Queen Mother commenting that he must be very proud of them. He responded: "I certainly am, Your Majesty."

War Sends Liquor Sales Soaring

War has sent British Columbia's liquor bill soaring to a new high mark—but a good deal of the extra money spent is going to the federal government to help fight the battle.

This was the indication today of Liquor Control Board sales for the six months-period ending September 30, when the board took in $8,263,304 for spirits, wines and malt liquors of all kinds.

It was an increase of $1,197,180 over the six months just prior to the outbreak of war, and the highest for the corresponding period of any year.

Scoby, Passmore Seek Reeveship

A contest for the reeveship in at least one of the Greater Victoria municipalities was assured last night when Councillor J. R. Scoby announced he would oppose Councillor Leslie H. Passmore for the reeveship of Saanich at the December 14 elections.

Councillor Scoby represents the same ward as the retiring reeve, A. G. Lambrick. Councillor Passmore represents Ward Seven.

John Watson, retired, 1000 Cloverdale Avenue, said today he would be a candidate in Ward One for a Saanich councillor's seat in the forthcoming elections. Mr. Watson was a councillor in 1934, 1935 and 1936.

As yet no contest for the reeveship in Esquimalt or Oak Bay has materialized, although there is a possibility there may be one in Oak Bay.

In Esquimalt Reeve Alex Lockley will seek re-election on December 14. He is the only reeve in the three outlying districts who is asking the voters to return him to office. There is not even a suspicion of a contest in Esquimalt at this date.

In Oak Bay Councillor William Ellis is the only person who has come forward to seek the reeveship. Reeve R. R. Taylor will retire at the end of the present term. Capt. Ellis may be opposed by Councillor Richard Angus. W. Len Woodhouse this morning contradicted reports that he might be a candidate.

French History Lecture Series

First in a series of eight lectures on "Personalities Who Made French History, From Napoleon I to the Present Time," was given last evening by Madame Vivonet in the Y.W.C.A., when the story of Napoleon, Josephine and Marie Louise was heard with much interest and appreciation by an audience.

Many of the members during the next few weeks will form a lecture and discussion club.

Madame Vivonet, whose wide knowledge of European history lends a particularly intimate charm to all her narrative, gave a clever resume of the lives of those celebrities and their influence upon the history of the world. Napoleon's love of Corsica, which dominated his life and character, his early education in France, where he became a lieutenant in an artillery regiment at 16; his enthusiasm for the revolution when it broke out; his efforts to help and educate his young brother Louis during these early years; his passionate study of history—particularly of Julius Caesar and the ascendancy to power of Paoli in Corsica which caused the Bonaparte family to leave France—were all related by the speaker.

Napoleon's help in putting down the Paris insurrection in 1795 had made him great with the Directory, and his avid study of the science of warfare gave him the master hand. His phenomenal rise and military achievements were rapidly sketched, but the romance of his marriage with Josephine, their crowning as Emperor and Empress of France, and his later marriage to Marie Louise and the subsequent birth of his much-desired son, formed the chief interest of the lecture.

The second in the series will be given on December 2 and will deal with the Bonaparte family.

A permit for a $1,500 projection room for the Empire Theatre was issued by the city building inspector's department last yesterday to Mrs. M. D. Bishop, Luney Bros. Ltd. will do the work at 1611 Government Street.

A meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Swimming Club executive will be held tonight at 7.30 in Archie McKinnon's office. Interclass contests of the "Y" Junior Boys Club started last night, the Cardinals gaining seven points and the Rovers five points. On Thursday the two classes will compete in a league basketball game and swimming relay for points.

Clothesline-snatcher

Some person who could not afford a pair of pyjamas to help keep him warm in bed these cold winter nights, must have decided to go on a little tour Sunday night to see if some kind-hearted citizen could not help him out of a chilly situation.

And sure enough there was. Touring the 1100 block, Fort Street, he was attracted by a striking pair of blue and white clothes line at G. C. Grant's place, 1162 Fort Street.

He did not bother to ask for them, the city police were informed.

Forest Revenues Over $100,000,000

Forest revenues of British Columbia this year will reach a new high record of more than $100,000,000, C. D. Orchard, assistant chief forester, told the forestry committee of the Legislature today in an address emphasizing the absolute necessity of conservation plans to perpetuate the timber supply.

"Out of every dollar you receive in British Columbia 38 cents comes from the bush," he said.

"As a generation, and as a government, we all have the responsibility of protecting it. It is impossible to overstate the importance of the forest resources in our provincial economy."

TO CUT LOSSES

Mr. Orchard said it could not be hoped to completely eliminate forest fires, but losses should be reduced to a reasonable point that would not endanger the forest stock. He suggested that if the total commercial cut and fire and disease loss were reduced to 1 per cent annually of the total forest stock there would be a safe margin left. Last year with a cut of 3,550,000 cu. ft. and depletion was 1.37 per cent. At this rate, he argued, the rotation of the whole forest stock would be about 73 years. Since 1912 the rotation basis was reduced from 96 years, so that approximately a quarter of the forest capital had been used.

"If this keeps up we slide down a slippery slope which inevitably, in course of time, will reduce our forest revenues to fence rails and mine props. The important thing to note is not that this condition might develop, but that it has developed," he said.

Mr. Orchard said that in the last 15 years the B.C. forest production fund had overestimated appropriations by an average of $156,000 a year, but the money was available only to fight fires and to prevent them. If it had been made available in advance double the value in saving forests could have been obtained.

Mr. Orchard was followed briefly by E. C. Manning, chief forester, now assistant timber controller for the war department. Concurring with his assistant's remarks, he declared: "We have been wishful thinkers in B.C. But the simple fact is that you can't keep logging 75,000 acres a year on this coast region and perpetuate the resources without making provision for a new crop," he said.

Recommends Army As Place to Fight

If they were feeling so pugnacious and aching for a fight they could find an outlet for this talent in the army, Magistrate Henry C. Hall told two young men who appeared before him this morning for sentence on a charge of fighting in a public place. He fined them $10 or, in default, three days in jail.

The two accused were caught by police fighting on Saturday night at the corner of Douglas and Humboldt Streets. During the scuffle, which attracted a large gallery, a piece of pipe was thrown through a plate glass window in a store on the corner.

The accused had arranged to pay the repair bill on the window at a cost of $44.70, Mr. Hall was informed.

The monthly meeting of the British Imperial Comrades' Association will be held at 736 Piggard Street on Wednesday evening at 8.

The Liquor Board's profit on these sales increased only $93,000, from $1,881,119 to $1,974,549.

The large increase in receipts is partly due to heavier sales, but particularly to the higher cost of liquor caused by larger federal spirit taxes imposed for war purposes, the board explained. This and the fact that buying of rye and gin with a smaller margin of profit has increased accounts for the comparatively minor increase in the board's profits.

The public's total expenditure on liquors for the six months was close to $11,000,000. In addition to the board's receipts the public pays the margin allowed beer parlor operators for retailing the beverage.

Beer parlors did about a $5,000,000 business, of which $2,473,454 went to the board for the wholesale price. The board also sold $1,319,409 worth of bottled beer to permit holders.

Sales of whisky, rye, gin, rum and other spirits totaled $3,991,843, of B.C. spirits $258,299, Australian and South African wines $80,712, and miscellaneous items $239,583.

8 Seek 5 Seats On City Council

With the announcement of Alderman Archie Willis still to come, eight candidates, including four aldermen, were definitely in the field today for the five council seats at stake in the December 12 civic elections.

Aldermen W. L. Morgan, T. W. Hawkins and D. D. McTavish entered the ring today, campaigning with Alderman John A. Worthington for re-election. Contesting the posts are P. E. George, retiring chairman of the City School Board; P. J. Sinnott, Victoria barrister and solicitor; Mrs. Alice McGregor and W. D. Todd, former alderman.

Alderman Hawkins, police commissioner and chairman of the street lighting committee, seeks return to office on the basis of his past record. In addition to being a commissioner and lights chairman he is a member of the public works committee, the water board, relief, celebration, decorations and illuminations and Victoria Saanich beaches and parks committees.

NEED ECONOMY
Alderman Morgan, chairman of the finance committee, announced his candidature for a third term with a statement declaring himself standing for a continued program of rigid economy. He emphasized the need for care in financing, particularly in view of the increased burdens placed on the taxpayers through the federal government's necessary taxation for war purposes, and stated his belief municipal charges should be held at a minimum to assist the citizens in meeting those levies.

In addition to being chairman of the finance committee he is a member of the water board, a fire warden a member of the celebrations and public utilities committees as well as the court of revision on the assessment roll and a city representative on the board of the B.C. Agricultural Association and the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

AFTER SECOND TERM
Alderman McTavish, seeking his second term on the council, is chairman of the relief committee, and a member of the parks, aged men's and aged women's home groups, business and trades development, and intermunicipal committees. He also served on the court of revision on the assessment roll and a city representative on the board of the B.C. Agricultural Association and the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

Alderman Worthington, chairman of the water board and health committee, and one of the authors of the Thetis Lake development and Mount Toimie and Mount Douglas scenic drive projects, holds membership in the finance, lands and public utilities committees, building board of appeal, court of revision on the assessment roll and Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee. He is a trustee of the Royal Oak Burial Park, representative on the Publicity Bureau, Queen Alexandra Solarium and W.C.T.U. Refuge Home, and a director of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

CANDIDATE AGAIN
W. D. Todd, alderman in 1932 and 1933, Standard Oil Company distributor here, has entered the contest with a platform built on planks of more rigid economy and a lower mill rate. An advocate of publicity work aimed at encouraging tourists, he urges efforts to bring residents from war-torn Europe to this city. Mr. Todd also seeks election on his previous record, his business experience and his position as a heavy taxpayer.

CAPT. ELLIS DENIES
To the Editor:—With reference to the statement in this morning's Colonist that I have guaranteed full co-operation with the B.C. Automobile Association Women's Ambulance Corps unit, I wish to make it quite plain that this is a complete exaggeration. At the moment I have little or no information concerning this organization.

Old Church System Is Beneficiary

Remarking that it might be well for the churches in Canada to follow in some way the system prevalent in the Church of Scotland in the Old Land, a system of locality stipends and tithes that had descended from pre-reformation days, Right Rev.
William Barclay, moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, addressed members, elders and office-bearers of the Victoria Presbytery yesterday at a fellowship luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room.

"Under this old system, the land owners were bound to serve the people and see that religion was part of the life of the parish,"
he said. "Many benefits
would result if we in the church in Canada could bestir ourselves and reproduce the essence of that system, so that people would manifest on a Sunday the side they chose, and go out during the week and live up to the Christian principles they professed."

Various aspects of the work of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, including the work of those ministers appointed as chaplains, and problems of church interest

With the Forces Better Meals For Trainees

Orders have been given to rush construction work at Nanaimo camp where troops have been quartered in tents for the last two months. Maj. Gen. R. O.
Alexander, head of the Pacific command, said in an interview in Vancouver yesterday. He is on his way to inspect Prince Rupert defences.

"When I first came out here,
I found a wet camp at Nanaimo," Maj. Gen. Alexander said. "But if you were to go there now, I think you would find that I have stepped on the gas."

The head of the Pacific command said the camp was not being built by army engineers but was in the hands of civilian contractors. He said he had never seen the original contract but was supposed to be completed.

"Everything possible is being done to rush construction of hutments," the officials said, "it certainly won't be my fault if the men are not comfortable."

The chief of the Pacific command said food would be better prepared at camps Gordon Head on Vancouver Island, and Vernon, when they opened Friday
for the second draft.

In reference to food served to the first draft camp, the Pacific command chief said there was "nothing wrong with the rations
but the preparation of the meals left something to be desired."

"However, all the cooks are at a cookery school in Victoria and I expect that there will be tasty meals for the boys at the new camp," he concluded.

JOE BUCK

Native son of Victoria, who has joined the Royal Canadian Air Force. He is the eldest son of Rev. F. N. Buck, M.C., now on active service overseas with the New Zealanders, and Mrs. Buck of Vancouver.

Now 19, young Buck spent the first four years of his life in the Yukon, where his father was first rector of St. Mary's at Mayo.
When he returned to Victoria in 1929 Joe attended Monterey
School, Glenlyon and Oak Bay High. In 1937 he went with his parents to New Zealand and the next year went to Los Angeles,
where he spent two years at Manual Arts and matriculated last June.

He made quite a name for himself in sports, winning the 440 yards for the whole of southern California and was offered a four-year scholarship at University of Southern California, but he turned it down to return to Canada and join in the fight against Nazi Germany. The day his mother saw him off in Vancouver she received a cable that Capt. Buck had arrived safely in England. For several years Capt. Buck taught at Victoria High School and frequently preached at various local Anglican churches.

SOURDOUGHS JOIN UP

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—A dozen sourdoughs from the Yukon passed through here yesterday on the last lap of a journey to Vancouver where they will enlist for overseas duty.

Heading the party is William Boyle of Mayo, Y.T., a veteran of the first Great War. Others are:
William Lamb, Elmer McDonald, Leroy Thomas, Charles Cook and Louis Kazinsky, all of Mayo, and Malcolm McLeod, George Cam,
Harold Cam, Herbert Corbett, Marvin Good and James Palmer, all of Dawson.

McLeod and the Cam brothers have been in the service of the White Pass and Yukon Railway.
Corbett, Good and Palmer were employees of the Yukon Consolidated Gold Corporation and the remainder from Mayo, have been with the Treadwell-Yukon Gold Company.

A 70-year-old Victoria lady recently received the following interesting letter of thanks from a Polish soldier in Scotland who were discussed informally by Mr.

Barclay and those present.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean, rector of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, presided, and welcomed the moderator to the city and to the meeting.

Council Will Discuss Guns

Disposition of souvenir German guns recently collected from various locations in the city will be discussed by the City Council this afternoon and action will be taken in accordance with the wishes of the council, Mayor Andrew McGavin announced today. He expressed no personal concern over the guns today following receipt of a communication from the Canadian Legion,
B.E.S.L., protesting their removal.
The mayor said he had no wish to become involved in an issue on the matter. The question to be answered is: "Who ordered their removal?"

The meeting will open with the presentation of Royal Canadian Humane Society parchments to Sheila Chambers and A. W.
Savage in recognition of their heroic action in saving Fred MacPherson from drowning in Thetis Lake on August 13, 1939.

A delegation from the Housewives League of Victoria has asked permission to express its views on the housing question as it affects dependents of servicemen.

A letter from The Children's Aid Society advocating the construction of an arena will be considered.

Views Show Through Home-made Telescope

Dr. M. Blythe of Los Angeles,
Cal., in a letter to his father, A.
P. Blythe, Victoria, gives an account of the passage of Mercury over the sun on November 11 which he witnessed through a telescope made by himself. The telescope has an eight-inch reflector, giving a 124 magnification.

Although he was able to watch the celestial show only for a few minutes, Dr. Blythe obtained enough information to give a complete account of the incident.
"Mercury was supposed to first
'touch' the sun's disc at 12.49,
which it did with absolute accuracy," the letter says. "It quickly passed along, being completely on the disc in less than 2 minutes—12.50.49 by my watch.
I believe it passed completely over the sun in 5 hours and 3 minutes.
It cut across the sun about half way to the horizontal diameter.
It was quite a sight."

'BRIGHAM YOUNG' AT DOMINION

Set against the turbulent background of the great Mormon trek in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Brigham Young," now at the Dominion Theatre, is one of the most appealing love stories the screen has ever told—that of Jonathan Kent, Mormon scout and Zina Webb, "the outsider." Tyrone Power is seen as the scout and lovely Linda Darnell is cast as the young girl who,
although not of Mormon faith,
flees with Tyrone's family after her father is killed.

Deeply in love they are forced to forego their romance during the harrowing trials of the trek.
The story of "Brigham Young"
was written especially for the screen by Louis Bromfield. The cast includes Dean Jagger as Brigham Young, Brian Donlevy,
Jane Darwell, John Carradine,
Mary Astor, Vincent Price, Jean
Rogers and Ann Todd.

'Spring Parade' at Atlas Tomorrow

Hailed by critics as the best picture in which she has yet appeared, Deanna Durbin's eighth production, Universal's "Spring Parade," will be presented at the Atlas Theatre tomorrow.
Produced by Joe Pasternak
and directed by Henry Koster,
the picture presents a more mature Deanna than in any of her previous offerings, and a more romance-laden story than has been her lot in her first seven productions.

Mickey Rooney In Clever Role

"Strike Up the Band" brings Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, June Preisler and other clever youngsters to the screen in an other lighthearted musical of youth.
It will open at the Capitol Theatre
tomorrow.

The youngsters organize a school band and stage an uproarious travesty on old-time melodrama with the "corny" ditties of long ago. Judy sings such modern song hits as "Nobody" and
"Our Love Affair." Mickey contributes a comical drum solo and other pranks. June Preisler dances and imitates Anna Held in "I Just Can't Make My Eyes Behave," and the dramatic climax is a radio contest with Paul Whiteman appearing in person, which the youngsters win with a rendition of Gershwin's "Strike Up the Band," embellished by clever musical specialties by the principals.

PLAZA THEATRE

Edward Small, producer of "Kit Carson," now showing at the Plaza Theatre, with a cast including Jon Hall in the title role, Lynn Barl, Ward Bond and Harold Huber, for a long time. He has managed carnivals and circuses, and has been responsible for more outstanding box office hits than any other independent producer.

OAK BAY THEATRE

The Lambeth Walk, as danced in the musical picture of that title, now on the Oak Bay Theatre screen, is the best dance for training bashful husbands. At least that is what a woman's civic club in England had in mind in starting dancing classes for people who lacked confidence in the ballroom. "The Lambeth Walk breaks down shyness in men," declared a club official. "When they have mastered the steps
they have the time of their lives."

RIO THEATRE

Richard Greene is seen as Robert Fulton, inventor of the first successful "ship without sails," in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Little Old New York," currently unrolling at the Rio Theatre.

Greene shares top billing with Alice Faye, Fred MacMurray and Brenda Joyce.

CADET THEATRE

Instead of a husband, Leap Year brought Linda Johnson a screen career. In Hollywood since last October, Linda, who won both the Fort Worth and Dallas, Texas, "Gateway to Hollywood" contests, had yet to appear before the cameras. She
